Butterfly Pavilion Celebrates Moms and Pollinators This Mother's Day Weekend, Saturday, May 13, and Sunday May 14.

What: Celebrate Mother's Day Weekend at Butterfly Pavilion by attending a fun workshop to create a pollinator habitat with the kids! Decorate a pot and plant a pollinator-friendly plant together and learn which pollinators might come visit your garden. Or take a stroll with a special flower provided by Butterfly Pavilion staff that will attract butterflies as you enjoy the Wings of the Tropics butterfly conservatory and rainforest.

Why: Pollinators are an incredibly important part of our lives, providing us with one out of every three bites of food we eat, and helping plants reproduce and sustain agriculture.
